This issue of the Benefits newsletter is designed to help you prepare for the upcoming open enrollment period. It includes:

- > Important deadlines
- > Reminders about special provisions that are available with the Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security (CARES) Act

Your Legacy Raytheon Benefits: Open Enrollment for 2021

As previously announced, your legacy Raytheon benefits will remain in place for the 2021 plan year. In addition, the benefits open enrollment process will be the same as in prior years.

For 2021, there are no changes to the benefit plans available to eligible Expat employees, including Global Choice. Beginning October 12, 2020, all the tools and information you'll need to make any changes to your benefits will be available on Desktop Benefits.

No Increase in Premiums for Majority of Benefit Plans, Including Global Choice

The amount you currently contribute toward the cost of your legacy Raytheon Global Choice (includes medical and dental coverage) and vision plans, as well as rates for disability insurance, accidental death and dismemberment (AD&D) insurance and MetLife (formerly Hyatt) Legal Plan will stay the same in 2021.

The amount you pay for employee optional life insurance will decrease; rates for the spouse and dependent children optional life insurance plans will increase.

Reminder about FSAs

If you currently participate in an FSA, you have until March 31, 2021, to submit claims for eligible expenses incurred in 2020. You cannot use your 2020 FSA(s) for services incurred in 2021. For information about how to submit claims through BenefitWallet, see Your 2020 Benefits Handbook.

2021
BENEFITS
OPEN ENROLLMENT
OCTOBER 12-23, 2020

The planning process to fully integrate the company's human resources systems and Total Rewards programs is underway. Before any changes go into effect after 2021, you will have ample time to learn, plan and decide what's right for you.

Your Personalized Enrollment Worksheet, available on Desktop Benefits beginning October 12, will list rates for the plans available to you.

Looking Ahead

Getting Ready for Open Enrollment: Tips to Help You Take Full Advantage of Your Legacy Raytheon Benefits

Open enrollment is your once-a-year opportunity to make sure you have the benefits coverage you need—no more, no less. And that means doing a little research in order to answer some important questions:

- What kinds of vision expenses do I anticipate? Am I in the right plan? Could I save money with a health care or limited purpose dental and vision FSA?
- Could I benefit from a dependent care FSA?
- Do I have the right amount of disability, life insurance and AD&D coverage?
- Do I anticipate the need for legal services in the new year?

Start thinking about your life circumstances now and you'll be ready to take action when open enrollment begins on October 12.

TIMEFRAME	ACTION
During open enrollment (October 12–23)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Think about what you and your family (if applicable) need. Will your current benefits continue to work or should you make some changes? • Use DecisionAssist and other tools and information the company provides to help make your benefit decisions (all available on Desktop Benefits). • Go to Desktop Benefits to review your benefit options and make any additional changes to your benefits. • Review Your 2021 Benefits Handbook for a description of all your benefits.
December 11 Correction period ends	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Remember: Outside of the annual benefits open enrollment period, the only way you can make changes to most benefits is if you experience a qualified change in status (such as marriage, divorce or the birth or adoption of a child) or if your address changes to outside your current medical plan's service area. In these cases, the change(s) you make must be due to and consistent with your change in status.

Memo from Payroll: 2020 Will Have an Extra Pay Period

Just like leap years have an extra day, every 11 years there's an extra pay period. Since 2020 is one of those years, there will be 27 pay periods this year, one more than the standard 26.

The amount you are contributing toward the cost of most benefits, including Global Choice and vision, has been calculated based on the standard 26 pay periods. As a result, no premium costs will be deducted from your 27th pay advice at the end of the year.

Contributions you elected to make to an FSA and/or the Raytheon Savings and Investment Plan (RAYSIP) have been calculated based on 27 pay periods. To ensure that you reach the full amount you elected to contribute to these plans, deductions are taken each pay period, including the 27th at the end of this year.

In addition, other deductions, such as garnishments, political action committee contributions and repayments for RAYSIP loans, as applicable, have been calculated based on 27 pay periods.

Pay Off Your Student Loans and Save for Your Future!

The Student Loan Repayment Contribution (SLRC) program is designed to help boost the retirement savings of employees who are paying off their student loans.

If you are eligible and enroll in this program, the company will make a dollar-for-dollar contribution to your Raytheon Savings and Investment Plan (RAYSIP) account equal to the amount you pay in student loans, up to the company match percentage you're eligible to receive. The company's contribution from the SLRC program is made in lieu of the company match you would otherwise be eligible to receive if you were making RAYSIP contributions.

Enrollment for the 2021 program year begins on November 1. Note that if you currently participate in the SLRC program and wish to participate again in 2021, you will need to actively enroll. Your current enrollment will not automatically carry over.

Watch for more information on Desktop Benefits and on Fidelity's NetBenefits website.

To participate in the 2021 SLRC program, you must enroll during the enrollment period (November 1–December 11, 2020).

Reminders about the CARES Act

Student Loan Repayment Contribution (SLRC) Program

The Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security (CARES) Act provides relief for federal student loan borrowers affected by COVID-19 by suspending federal student loan payments and interest. This provision is now in effect through the end of the year.

While there are no changes to how the SLRC program works, if you have recurring payments set up with your student loan servicer, they may have been automatically paused. If you have questions about recurring payments, contact your student loan servicer.

If you have decided not to make loan repayments for much of this year, keep in mind that the company's contribution for the SLRC program will be calculated in January 2021 based on your 2020 eligible compensation, the total of your student loan repayments and any non-matched RAYSIP contributions you have made.

You will have through the end of 2020 to adjust your combined loan repayments and non-matched RAYSIP contributions in order to maximize the company's 2020 contribution from the SLRC program. For more information, go to Fidelity's COVID-19 Resource Center, accessible from the NetBenefits landing page (www.netbenefits.com/raytheon). For a description of the SLRC program, see the RAYSIP section of Your 2020 Benefits Handbook or the Student Loan Repayment Contribution (SLRC) Program brochure, available on the Total Rewards page of oneRTN.

Raytheon Savings and Investment Plan (RAYSIP)

With the CARES Act, RAYSIP offers new distribution and loan repayment options.

To take advantage of these options, you will be required to self-certify that you qualify, such as if your you, spouse or your dependent has been diagnosed with COVID-19, or that you've experienced adverse financial consequences directly related to COVID-19. For a full list of reasons and more details, go to www.netbenefits.com/raytheon.

To learn more about the options that may be available to you, call 800-835-5097. For more information and resources to help you make informed decisions, go to Fidelity's COVID-19 Resource Center, accessible from the NetBenefits landing page (www.netbenefits.com/raytheon).

Note that most financial experts strongly recommend you carefully consider the impact of any distribution before taking money out of your retirement account.

CARES Act Extends Certain Deadlines

Need to enroll yourself or an eligible dependent in your benefits because you or he/she has lost other coverage or he/she is newly eligible to be added to your coverage?

You now have until 90 days after the national emergency ends to enroll in coverage, retroactive to the event effective date. You will still be required to pay your contributions, retroactively, for the entire time you and any family members are covered. For information about life events that are considered qualified changes in status, see Your 2020 Benefits Handbook.

*Do you or a covered dependent need to extend health benefits through COBRA? You now have until 120 days after the national emergency ends to enroll in COBRA continuation coverage. If your COBRA enrollment deadline has already passed, call the RBC at 800-358-1231 to enroll. For details about COBRA, see the Administrative section of Your 2020 Benefits Handbook.*

Key Dates for Open Enrollment 2021

- Beginning October 12: Visit Benefits World, a virtual benefits fair (available on Desktop Benefits 24/7 from any Internet-connected computer or mobile device). Here you can view videos and plan information during open enrollment.

- Time to Act!
Open Enrollment: October 12–23.

Go to the secure Desktop Benefits website to view your Personalized Enrollment Worksheet and Plan Smart enrollment guide.* Then, review your benefit elections and make any changes. Questions? Call the RBC at 800-358-1231.

Remember, only employees can access personal information and make benefit changes through the secure Desktop Benefits website. Your family members, if applicable, can review general benefits information by visiting a public version of Desktop Benefits; no login is required.

- November 1–December 11: 2021 SLRC program enrollment period. If you don't enroll by December 11, your next opportunity to enroll will be during the fall of 2021 for the 2022 program. Remember:

If you currently participate in the SLRC program and wish to participate again next year, you will need to actively enroll. Your current enrollment will not automatically carry over.

- Late November: Your Personalized Enrollment Worksheet and beneficiary statement will be posted on Desktop Benefits in the Message Center. Your beneficiary statement will include the electronic designations you have on file for the following plans: Life insurance, AD&D, Raytheon Savings and Investment Plan (RAYSIP), Retirement Income Savings Program (RISP) (if applicable), pension (if applicable) and deferred compensation (if applicable). Be sure to check that your beneficiary designations are current.

Your statement will include instructions on how to update beneficiary designations.

- December 11: Correction period ends. Remember: Outside of the annual benefits open enrollment period, the only way you can make changes to most benefits is if you experience a qualified change in status (such as marriage, divorce or the birth or adoption of a child) or if your address changes to outside your current medical plan's service area. In these cases, the change(s) you make must be due to and consistent with your change in status. See Your Benefits Handbook for details.
- Late December: New ID cards are mailed, as applicable.
- January 1, 2021: Your Global Choice and vision elections become effective. All other changes (such as those for disability, life insurance and AD&D coverage) become effective as long as you are actively at work and have received approval for any requested coverage increases where evidence of insurability is required.

*Employees without Internet access at work will continue to receive enrollment materials and printed confirmation and beneficiary statements via their home mail.
